THE WORLD DRYING UP.

Possibility That the Human Race Will Die of Thirst.

We are to die of thirst. Comparatively few persons know the suffering involved in a thirst for which there is no help at hand. The consuming thirst more than the pain of any wound makes the battlefield a hell. Yet death by thirst is the doom forecast for the race by the grim scientists. Geologists find that the fresh water supply of the globe is falling. They have data which show the gradual withdrawal of the streams and other bodies of water from the surface. Both in Africa and central Asia and, indeed, in all the great levels the water beds are drying up. A great number of lakes well known in the historical age have entirely disappeared. For example, Lake Chad, in Africa, has vanished within recent years, as has also Lake Ngami, discovered by Livingston. Lake Tchad is more than half dried up. For centuries bodies of water in central Asia have been evaporating and the deserts extending. Where 2,000 years ago great cities stood in east Turkistan there are found only sand and depressing stretches of sand. The river Tigris, once a principal Asiatic route, is almost gone, and Lake Urmia, formerly four times the area of Lake Geneva, is now but a shallow marsh. The same sad conditions are noted in European Russia. Novgorod, the most pushing city in the czar's distracted realm, was surrounded by water in the middle ages. While we may be sure that the fate which the geologists suggest for humanity is very far away, the facts recited to show the drying up process are convincing proofs of the need of preserving our forests with more care. - St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PUSH THE LABEL.

Organized Labor Should Buy Only
Union Made Goods.

Within a very short time the United States supreme court has scored three times against organized labor. The first was the decision declaring the employers' liability law unconstitutional. The second was the setting aside for the same reason of the act forbidding the discharge of men because of union affiliations, and the third puts to death the boycott in its relation to interstate commerce. Those three decisions very likely foreshadow what may be expected in the suit of the Bucks Store and Range company against the American Federation of Labor in the "unfair list" case, now on its way to the supreme bench.

In an interview Joseph B. Buchanan, an old member of Denver Typographical union, No. 49, and of Big Six, also an economic writer of wide experience, in answer to the query, "What will the trade unions do with this array of court decisions against them?" said: "A consensus of the opinions of many labor men with whom I have talked about this latest decision is that the thing for union labor to do now is to push the union label. And it seems to me that would be the proper procedure. If it is unlawful to agitate against the products of a nonunion concern, it certainly is not unlawful to advise one's friends to patronize union manufacturers. Such idea might be carried to the extent of refusing to trade with a merchant who did not handle union label goods when they were obtainable. This would change the campaign from one of 'boycotting' to one of 'boosting'—instead of denouncing the dealer in nonunion made goods the organizations would praise the dealer in union made goods."

Things Theatrical.

"Paid In Full," with many of the cast of the first production, is to be revived.

Frank Worthing, leading man for Grace George in "Divorcee," has been unable to rejoin the company.

Arthur Shaw, the son of Mary Shaw, has been engaged for an important role in "The Travelling Salesman" by James Forbes.

Leslie Harris, styled "England's greatest entertainer at the piano," recently made his American debut at the Hudson theater, New York.

Melville Ellis, whose brilliant musical specialty was a feature of the New York run of "The Orchid," is one of the features of "The Great White Way."

Vernon Stiles, who is singing the role of Lieutenant Pinkerton in Henry W. Savage's production of "Madam Butterfly," is a son of Judge Stiles of the Iowa supreme court.

Free Lunch For a Lion.

He was selling suspensions on the street, but he declared that in his palmy days he had been Professor Piccolomini, the lion tamer.

"What made you give it up?" he was asked.

"Well, you see it was this way. Once I was engaged to tame a lion called Frederick Barbarossa, who was certainly a wild proposition."

"But I was equal to the task. By slow and gradual steps I taught Frederick good manners. I used to walk into his cage, snap a whip, make him do stunts and all that sort of thing. Everything went along beautifully. But I got into trouble when I tried to teach Frederick to eat out of my hand."

"How?"

"Why, he ate three fingers out of my hand, confound him! Have a pair of suspenders? They work without hitching. Twenty-five cents!" - New York Times.

Mary's Wink.

Mary had a little wink
Within her eye as blue.
And every time that Mary went
You bet the wink went too.

Heredity.

The baby was learning to walk,
"Dess its 'littie heart!" exclaimed the fond mother. "It waddles dess like its big fat paps, doesn't it?"

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Major Using Herpelde on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

"The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelde speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it always that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelde effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness. In killing it, Herpelde stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample.
